

The biggest win with this website is that the image is the correct resolution, it isn't stretched or contracted. One quick fix I'd do is swap projects for courses and write in the courses you're in. It would be nice if you adjusted the colors to make the website more personal.